IN CONGRESS. JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. — He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. — He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only. — He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. — He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people. — He has refused for a long time after such dissolutions to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within. — He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands. — He has obstructed the Administration of Justice by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers. — He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. — He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their substance. — He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our Legislatures. — He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power. — He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation: — For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us: — For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States: — For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world: — For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent: — For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by jury: — For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences — For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies: — For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments: — For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with Power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever. —

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us. — He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our Towns, and destroyed the lives of our people. — He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation. — He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands. — He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. — Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends. —

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. — And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

Dedication

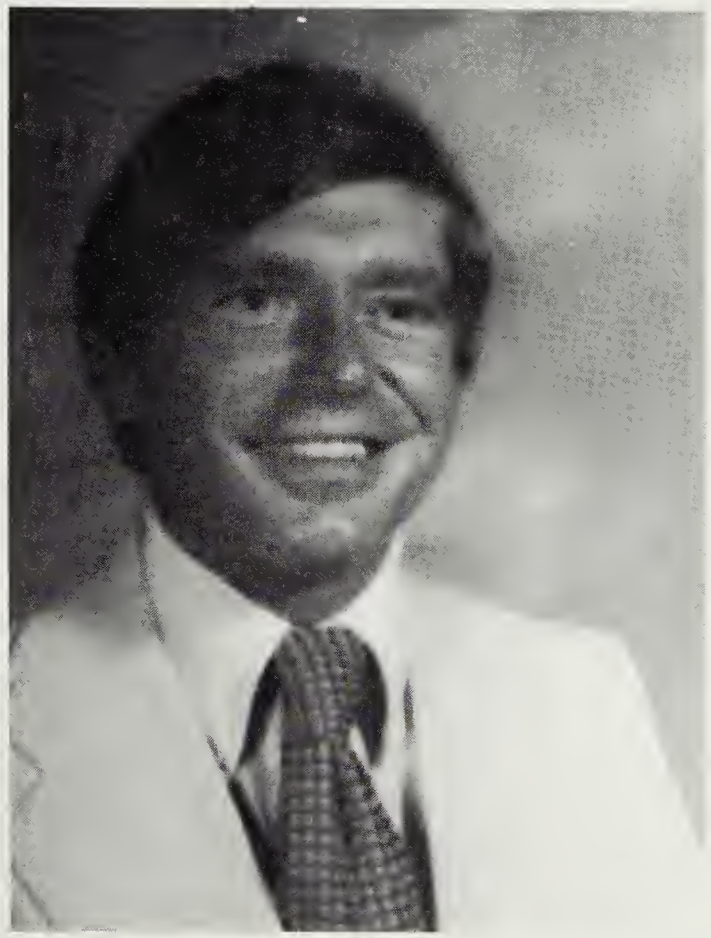
DEDICATION

We, the senior class of 1976, dedicate this edition of the Trident to Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Booth, and Mr. Skinner.

Their guidance enabled us to make decisions independently, solve our own problems and learn from our mistakes.

We sincerely appreciate their understanding and hope that we may enrich the lives of those we meet, as they have enriched ours.

"76" Annual Staff



We, the Senior Class of 1976, would like to especially recognize Mr. Louis Justis, a former teacher at Onancock High School.

The most important gift a teacher can give to his students is the love he has for the subject he teaches. Mr. Justis more than met this special qualification.

The tidbits of personal information on historical figures he brought out in class certainly made World History interesting!

With respect and deep affection, we make this special dedication to him.

"76" Annual Staff

ONANCOCK HIGH

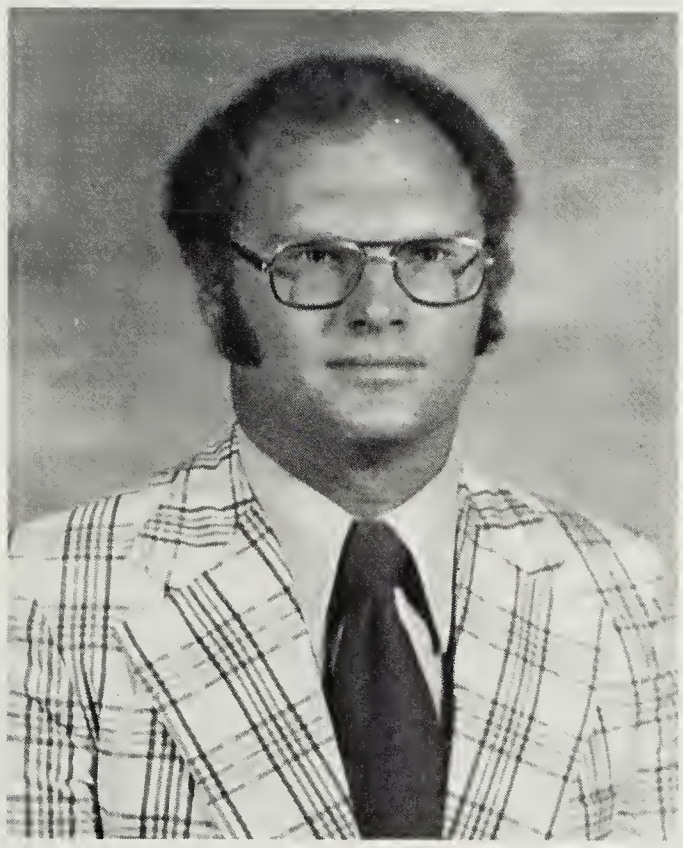
You must, I am sure, be aware that the last four years have been very special ones in your life. It is here that you have left the record that will determine what you can do and where you can go throughout the rest of your career.

I sincerely hope that the years you have spent here have been happy years and that they have been filled with meaning and accomplishment.

Now your life stretches before you and it is my sincere wish that it will be one filled with joy and happiness.

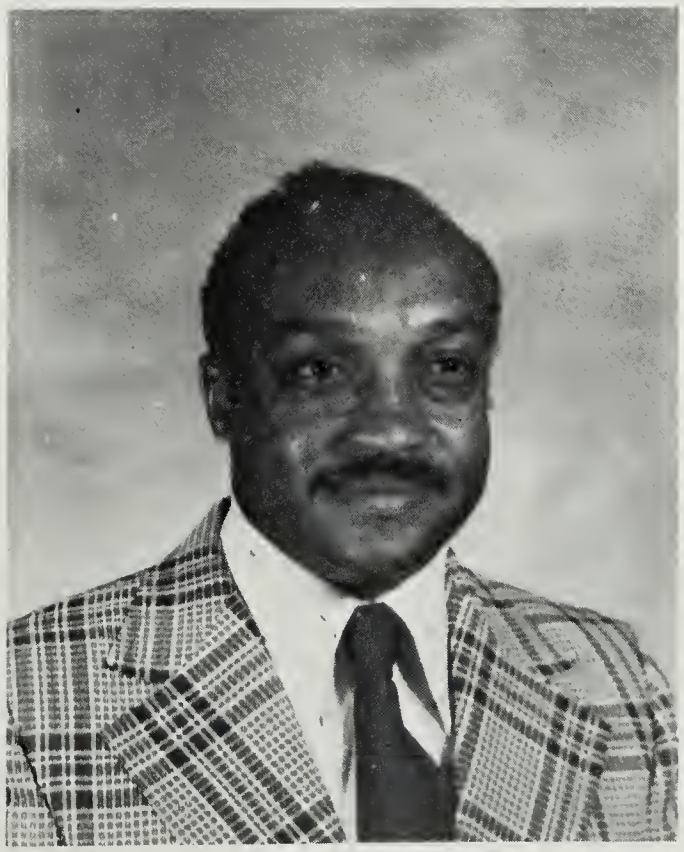
Earl G. Hoppes,
Principal

ADMINISTRATION



I sincerely believe that this Senior class of 1976 is a fine group of young people. I hope that the promising future which seems to be yours will be realized and that each and every one of you lives up to his or her fullest potential. May you approach life with a good attitude and may success greet each and every one of you.

Dennis Custis,
Assistant Principal



It is with mixed emotions that I have to say farewell to you because we started on this venturesome journey together; you as eager hopeful students and I, as an assistant administrator of the Onancock High School. You, I consider my class.

Because of the excellent instruction of your teachers, we have watched you develop and mature into a group of fine individuals.

As you depart from us, remember that you are a part of a great nation and it is your duty to become as highly educated as your capabilities will allow because education is now the supreme problem of all nations and if we are not educated our nation will slowly perish.

You must develop a philosophy of life and inculcate the idea that life does not include only duties and sacrifices but also little things that are of paramount importance. We are more secure when we are kind, take care of obligations, share our bounty, have great integrity and always have a cheery smile.

Education makes a person easy to lead, but difficult to drive, easy to govern, but impossible to enslave.

I wish you all the success possible.

Assistant Principal

Dear Mrs. Booth, Mr. Skinner, and Mrs. Smith,

You asked that in ten years our class correspondents fill you in on how the class of '76 has fared. In general, as far as we know, all of our classmates are in good health - at least physically.

Many of our classmates have achieved far above average success. James Johnson has grown 2 feet and is now a center for the Los Angeles Lakers. Susan Ewell is now a household name after winning 9 Olympic gold medals (playing as a one man softball team); Tami Griffin was a jockey in the last Kentucky Derby. Juanita Ames has achieved world-wide success for her part in the founding of the first Woman's Professional Boxing Circuit. Elsie Bagwell is the fat lady with the Barnum & Bailey Circus. And who could forget that Annette Simpkins, Gwen Davis, and Alvin Pettit broke the Guinness World Record for gum chewing, and are now known as Snap, Crackle, and Pop!

The class of '76 boasts two teachers: Debbie Kay - a sought after professor in How To Ask Questions, and Michael Bagwell - the new OHS typing teacher. We also have a number of business tycoons. Wendy Parker owns a cigarette factory and never has to borrow anymore. Sueann Pruitt is owner of the illustrious Beauty Salon chain. Ann Matthews is the owner of the Sew Your Own Shirt Factory. Charlotte Williams has opened her own Jolly Williams Amusement Park in the growing resort area of Deep Creek. Barbara Johnson is owner of Peanut Chew Incorporated.

Mitzi Collins has sure had her ups and downs - she fell off her shoes five years ago and is still trying to climb back up. Rosemary Brown is still trying to decide what she is going to be when she grows up. Teresa Davis has been engaged and disengaged so many times, she has started a ring outlet store. Our own Roger Chandler is still hopping along.

As you know, glamour has always been foremost among our classes priorities and many of our classmates have sustained this. Lynne Taylor is now a "Fly Me" girl with Fun and Sun Airlines. Brenda Parker is a fashion consultant for Cher. Patricia Wright has joined the Pointer Sisters. Karen Bennett and Jackie Hamilton are models for the Mark Eden Company. Rose Chandler has become the first black twiggy. Beth Haynes is now a designer for Popular Mechanics magazine. Eddie Holloway has been screen-tested for the lead in Kojak 2. Starr Thompson is a "star" in her own kitchen, married with five children. Ray Thompson (now known as Evil Ray) will attempt to jump Onancock Creek with his new super-cycle.

Many of our classmates have stayed on the Shore and added to its growth. Edgar Allen is now mayor of Tasley. Leroy Baumgardner and Pete Taylor are the town cops of Onancock. Sheila Morris is a taxi driver at 4-Corner-Plaza. Steve Turlington has moved up to general manager of Radio Electronics. Robert Holloway is bringing the crew-cut back as proprietor of his own barber shop. Sadie Tyler is the bouncer at Buster Redd's night club. Linda Smith has become the Shore's own poet laureat. Jill Brinkley and Debbie Matthews are happily married with cumulative children numbering 15 (busy ladies). Lee Lewis is a therapist for people with lockjaw. Marty Bennett has joined her in the medical profession, and is busy helping the stork. Steve Daley is busy building boats - some of them even float. Whitney Hardstock is the fearless commander-in-chief of the Onancock National Guard. Kevin Bagwell is a well-known car salesman for Rambler Motor Company. Timmy Brown is general manager of Brown Brothers Garage. Mike Arvay is well launched upon his career of selling penny loafers.

Our class was always different and unusual in many ways, and as you can see we have sustained this in our chosen professions. Our best wishes for good health.

Sincerely,

Spirit of '76
Jennie Davis (class correspondent)

EDITOR'S NOTE

With all of my endeavors this year in preparing the yearbook, it has been through our togetherness that we have reached our goal. The staff has put forth its utmost effort to make this a successful yearbook. It took a lot of time, hard work, positive attitude and most of all patience. The staff and I are most appreciative for the full cooperation from the students and faculty during the year.

With our patience and your motivation, we have tried to put together an outstanding yearbook for the year of 1976, one that we may be proud of.

I would like to express my appreciation for the hard work on the part of the staff. My greatest thanks go to Marion Summerville, Susie Jones, Carter Pruitt, Wayne Parks, Betty Jubilee, Ivonnia Drummond and Gwen Parker. Without them, this yearbook could not be a memorable success. I also wish to thank Mrs. Moon and Mr. Hart, our advisors, for their patience and most of all, advice.

We hope that no matter when you look through this edition of the Trident, it will bring back memories of school days.

CONGRESS. JULY 4, 1776.

The Unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

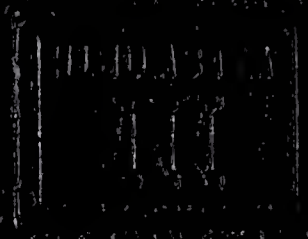
He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens taken captive on the high seas to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a people who mean to be free. Future ages will scarce believe that the hardiness of one man, adventured within the short compass of twelve years only, to build a foundation so broad and so undisguisedly tyrannical, on which to erect the superstructure of his detestable will. Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.


We, therefore, the representatives of the united states of America, in general congress assembled, appealing to the supreme judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.
